

[Who Is Nancy Nemitz?]

Nancy is a professional organizer and productivity expert who specializes in workplace optimization. Since 2004, she has been helping her clients get more done with less stress by teaching proper time management and preparation techniques. In addition to being named one of the top 10 professional organizers in Phoenix by SpareFoot Moving Guides, Nancy was featured in the season finale of Hoarding: Buried Alive on TLC, as well as in several other local media outlets. She also holds multiple certificates of study with the Institute for Challenging Disorganization and was a Golden Circle member of the National Association of Professional Organizers.

As a speaker and a consultant, Nancy makes a positive impact in the lives of her clients, which range from professional athletes to lawyers and physicians.

Motivational Speaking

You can achieve so much more than you think is possible – but first you need to make sure you are headed in the right direction. Nancy Nemitz is your educator and guide.

Nancy is a born storyteller who believes audiences should be entertained as well as informed. Her presentations are created to incorporate humor and her own life experiences, which makes her relatable. Although she is an expert in organization and productivity, she is also human. She has been in your shoes and knows what it takes to overcome life's challenges, from forgetting to pick her daughter up from the airport to throwing her keys in the trash.

If you need a motivational speaker who can connect with her audience and uncover practical solutions attendees can implement in their lives right away, Nancy is ready to customize a presentation for you. She will teach participants how to get more done with less stress through proper preparation, perspective and time management.

"Thank you so much for coming to speak to our group. I found it extremely helpful and motivating! I received emails from those that attended who also thought you were fantastic."

-Tina Reed

"You were very informative and entertaining. You kept the crowd alive. Thanks so much for being the keynote speaker. We had an awesome time."

-Nikole Buckley

Nancy Nemitz

Create the Space, LLC

(480) 223-8939

nancy@ createthespace.com

Presentation Themes:

- Listening and trusting your mind to tell you what to do
- How people who are lost survive
- Overcoming the fear to start your own business or go on a quest
- How much preparation is enough
- Going beyond what your mind says you are capable of achieving
- The harm in letting too many projects go unfinished

create the [space]

www.createthespace.com

[Signature Presentations]

Have You Ever Thought about Quitting?

Life throws curves that may make you want to give up at times. Should you just quit? Nancy pulls together her own experiences and real examples of others who have faced this question, such as Marcus Luttrell, the Lone Survivor, to shed light on what it takes to keep going. She discusses the book Deep Survival to emphasize the importance of seeing your situation clearly and being able to adapt. Participants of this presentation will walk away feeling like they can overcome any challenge – and be provided with the tools to do so.

I Lost My Pants in Pamplona: Lessons Learned from Walking 500 Miles across Spain in 32 Days

Even with all the preparation in the world, the unexpected always happens. This presentation explores the importance of proper preparation and mindset. Nancy never expected to lose her pants in Pamplona on the third day of her 500-mile pilgrimage across Spain, but everyone has to overcome obstacles on their way to success. Attendees of this presentation will learn how to set achievable goals and take one step at a time to consistently finish what they set out to do.

5 Things You Can Learn from the Mafia

Nancy has some experience with organized crime, as her father was in charge of the FBI's organized crime division in Los Angeles when she was young. Nancy loves to say, "If criminals can be organized, then why can't the rest of us? Maybe it's just the disorganized criminals who get arrested." Participants of this unique presentation will learn the importance of delegation, preparation and time management, as well as how to put those strategies into action.

Your Life Is a Pilgrimage

How prepared are you for the obstacles you will encounter ahead? It's vital you decide in advance what you are going to do when you hit roadblocks. Nancy faced many challenges as she walked 500 miles across Spain, but because she was prepared mentally and physically, getting to Santiago was a foregone conclusion. She was once asked, "Did you ever think about quitting?" For Nancy, quitting wasn't an option. This presentation teaches attendees how to achieve that invaluable mindset.

Nancy Nemitz

Create the Space, LLC

(480) 223-8939

nancy@
createthespace.com

create the [space]

www.createthespace.com